Targeted Reading Instruction (TRI): is a professional development program from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

This channel features TRI videos designed to support any beginning reader at home (K-2). Each video interactively presents a TRI activity, with a series of four videos centered around a decodable text. Videos are designed to allow children to watch and participate on their own, with or without parent guidance. You can start with any book, just follow the sequence of the videos (1-4). If you subscribe to the channel, you will be notified when new videos are posted. <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCslzFfywunOmb-RM5OkjOKw/playlists>

Open Library: Open Library is an open, editable library catalog, building towards a web page for every book ever published. Just like a library, you can check out books virtually. Within this website there is a Student Library section so you can find exactly what you are looking for.
